Volume 71, No. 3 | March 2025 | Business Meetings as Announced

En hilsen fra Nordahl Grieg Presidenten

Hello Members and Friends:

Now that March of 2025 is already here, I was wondering what was unique about the month of March. Although it feels like it is still winter with grey dreary skies and very cold mornings on most days, in reality, March signals the arrival of spring with the Spring Equinox on March 20, at 2:01 AM Pacific Standard Time. As most know, that is the day when day and night are equal lengths, and days get longer after that. The Earth's orbit lines up so both hemispheres get the same amount of sunlight. I think this is truly unique about the month of March!

What else is unique about the month of March? Here are a few things to celebrate and honor in March:

- Nordahl Grieg Lodge's Anniversary Dinner – March 1, 4:00 PM
- Employee Appreciation Day – March 1
- National Dress in Blue Day – March 1
- National Pound Cake Day – March 4
- International Women's Day – March 8
- Saint Patrick's Day – March 17
- Nordahl Grieg Lodge's Annual Shareowner's Meeting of Nordahl Hall – March 20, 7:00 PM
- World Poetry Day – March 21
- National Puppy Day – March 23
- National Cocktail Day – March 24
- International Waffle Day – March 25

So the next time you are wondering what is unique about March, take a look at all of these celebrations; AND don't forget to attend our Annual Shareowner's Meeting by Zoom on March 20 at 7:00 PM.

Have a great March,

Sheryl Hawes, President

Annual Shareholders' Meeting of Nordahl Hall, Inc.

2024 Lutefisk Wrap-Up

Many thanks to everyone who helped make our 2024 Lutefisk and Meatball Dinner a success. We ran across a few snags but have ideas on how to prevent them this year. We did make money, and we didn't run out of fish this year. We had young, enthusiastic servers, and all of our guests had a great time.

For 2025 someone (or two or three) will need to step up to chair our dinner. I'll do whatever I can to help. I'll chair the meatball making. I just need to pass the torch. To volunteer or get more information, please contact Sheryl Hawes at president@nordahl-grieg.org.

Fraternally,

Janie Kelly

Hurra for Vaffeldagen: March 25th

By Norm Hulberg

Last month the Tidende trumpeted National Pizza Day, but let's have some trumpeting for that Norwegian delicacy: the waffle!

Waffle Day is celebrated in Scandinavia on March 25, which is also the Feast of the Annunciation (nine months before Jesus was born). More secularly, it marks the start of spring and the time that hens start laying eggs again.

Waffles in Norway are completely different than those chubby American waffles, slathered in maple syrup. The Norsk version is thin and always made on an iron that produces heart-shaped waffles, "hjertevaffler."

Vaffler are most often eaten cold, topped with sour cream or whipped cream and jam, strawberries, or wild berries. If you want to use goat cheese, go ahead! They aren't a breakfast food - more typically a lunch or evening snack. They freeze well, so you can pull a few out when those unexpected guests pop in.

To make heart waffles you must, of course, have a heart waffle iron. Don't buy what is really a Belgian waffle maker. Wilfa makes a quality item…if you can get it imported. Mine is a VillaWare, but that company no longer exists (look for a used one on eBay!). Maybe CucinaPro. Don't buy a cheap one; your grandchildren will be using it years from now, and you want them to remember you fondly.

From True North Kitchen (https://true-north-kitchen.com/nordic-buttermilk-waffles)

For the waffles:

- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- ¼ cup sugar
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon ground cardamom
- 3 large eggs
- 1 cup sour cream
- ¾ cup milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 8 tablespoons unsalted butter melted and cooled

To serve:

- Fresh berries, sliced peaches, jam, or fruit compote
- Whipped cream or yogurt whipped cream
- Norwegian brown cheese (Gjetost)

Instructions:

1. Whisk flour, sugar, baking powder, salt, and cardamom together in a medium bowl. Set aside.
2. Whisk eggs together in a large bowl. Add sour cream and whisk until smooth. Add milk, vanilla, and melted butter and whisk until fully combined. Add dry ingredients to wet ingredients and stir gently with rubber spatula until the mixture just comes together. It will not be entirely smooth.
3. Heat waffle iron according to manufacturer's instructions. Cook waffles one at a time until golden brown and crisp. Serve immediately or transfer to a 200 degree oven to keep warm.

How Oslo Got Its Name

The capital of Norway—Oslo—is one of the easier names to pronounce in the list of Norwegian cities. However, Oslo hasn't always been its name. In fact, it has taken on a few different names throughout history. Originally, the name was Ánslo or Áslo around the year 1040. It is believed that the second part of the name, 'lo,' meant "meadow," and the first part of the word, 'Ás,' meant "hill" or "ridge," which makes the entire name translate to "meadow beneath the ridge." In 1314, when the city officially became the capital, the spelling transitioned to what we know today: Oslo (pronounced "ooh-shloo") However, when the city burned down in 1624 and plans were discussed to rebuild, King Christian VI of Denmark and Norway decided the new city would take his name and become Christiania. With the language reform movement that followed in the next few centuries, the city was then spelled with a K, becoming Kristiania. Finally, around 1924, the city went back to its roots and was officially renamed Oslo, which stemmed from some of the eastern parts of the city being referred to as "Oslo" in maps at the time.

Northern Lights Museum Display

The Northern Lights have long been an awe-inspiring sight. You are considered lucky if you've had the chance to see them in person. Fortunately, those of us who haven't been so lucky can still enjoy the phenomenon through photos. However, the journey to capturing the aurora borealis hasn't been an easy one.

Some of the first attempts to capture the Northern Lights were just sketches by scientist and Danish-born teacher, Peter Tromholt, as photographic plates weren't sensitive enough to capture them. These images were on display at the Polar Museum at the Scott Polar Research Institute in Cambridge, England this February.

In 1882, Tromholt spent a year in Kautokeino, Norway, where he lived amongst Sámi people and completed his sketches. He became known to some as the "star man." Tromholt is considered a pioneer in this subject and is praised for his research contributions.

Connections...ways to connect with your Norwegian heritage

- Now Playing on Netflix: "Number 24" Based on the true story of Gunnar Sønsteby, a young Norwegian who risked his life to fight the Nazi occupation in WW2, becoming one of Norway's most decorated war heroes. More than a war movie, it is a testament to the strength, courage, and moral complexity of those who resisted oppression during one of history's darkest moments. Drawing from Sønsteby's life, the movie provides a gripping and thought-provoking account of the human cost of war.
